

War, what is it good for?

Our reading will focus on Aztec stories, myths and factual books in the first half term. In the second half term we will study Michael Morpurgo 'Friend or Foe?'

History: The Aztec society, their rise and fall.
The Maya culture.

World War Two, what started it all off, leaders, the effect on people living through that time.

English:encyclopedia entries,
story writing, poetry,
discussion, fact files, myths.

thinking: are wars necessary?
Discussing our theme title.

Aztecs
sacrificed
after game
team

Science
Electricity. making and changing circuits.

Geography: Mexico, the spread of the Aztecs and the Maya civilisation.

Comparing modern Mexico with North and South America.

Henry Moore - his underground drawings.

Guernica - a modern representation of war.

In this term, we will be thinking about the cause and effects of war in the Aztec society and during World War Two. By the end of the term, pupils will be able to give their own views of the causes, reasons and outcomes of war in two contrasting scenarios.